Send down your blessings on these your servants, who so generously devote themselves to serving others and their country. Grant them courage when they are afraid, wisdom when they must make quick decisions, strength when they are weary, and compassion in all their work. When they are called to duty, let them faithfully serve You in all that they do, we pray through Christ our Lord, Amen.

Parish Perspective

By Peter Degl'Innocenti...Pastoral Associate

Nothing says "summer" like the smell of smoked BBQ meats wafting on the air and filling the nostrils with olfactory explosions of delight. Such was the case for our first Tri-Tip sandwich weekend. The Knights of Columbus once again performed in exemplary style by producing those foil wrapped torpedoes of flavor. I purchased my customary two, planning to eat one for breakfast and save the other for lunch. Alas, the "best laid plans of men..." No sooner did I get home when I commenced to adorn the first sandwich with a slathering of mayonnaise, romaine lettuce, vine ripened tomatoes, and salt and pepper. It was soooooo good that my plan of saving the other for later quickly fell apart as I reconstructed my addition efforts as on the first one. The sandwich rolls were better than last year, the meat was more tender than last year, and the meat was more generously applied to the sandwich than last year! Now this is a way of supporting the church through the Knights that I can get used to.

Enjoy the summer, enjoy the church, and enjoy the most flavorful summer sandwich you can imagine; buy a (I would say at least two for a he-man sized breakfast) Tri-Tip sandwich and taste and see for yourself just how good they really are.

Work continues on the ceiling in the narthex and the church office. No longer are the "bare bones" 2x12 joists visible nor can the metal conduits be seen snaking their way through them. As of this writing, the insulation batts were all stapled into place and the sheetrock was being readied for nailing to the ceiling joists.

We had several baptisms at the end of June and those who were not familiar with our situation asked about "why no ceiling?" I replied (tongue-in-cheek) that with the drought we had a choice to either fill the font with water or install a ceiling.

Lastly, as I reported in last week's column, my wife and I have booked our cruise to travel to Alaska with Fr. Robert and the rest of the brave and hearty souls of St. Ignatius of Antioch. By the conversations I had with Linda Grelli at Black Diamond Travel, it appears that the cabins are being reserved at a pretty fast rate. If you are thinking of regaining your "sea legs" or are looking for a fun and exciting "new thing to do" vacation, by all means book your cabin / passage now!

Now how does that Johnny Horton song go?... Oh yeah, "North to Alaska, you go north, the rush is on!"
